Explanation of Local Expenditures: About 289 of the 294 school corporation have some severance and or early retirement benefits provision as part of the school's contract. Approximately 50 are currently funded on an actuarial basis. Certified staff salaries for the 1999-2000 school year were about $3.0 B. Each 1% of payroll required to fund the benefits would cost schools about $30 M. The actual cost would depend on the benefits granted by the school corporation.

The maximum severance benefits range between $4,200 and $103,075 with the average being $18,338 per teacher.

The maximum early retirement benefits range between $15,000 and $205,724 with the average being $69,855 per teacher.

Funding for the bill would be from existing revenue sources.
